Operating Results

1. Review of Consolidated Operating Results

For the first quarter (April 1, 2009—June 30, 2009), NYK Line posted consolidated revenues of ¥380.0 billion, compared with ¥679.6 billion for the same period last year, operating loss of ¥25.5 billion, compared with operating income of ¥58.1 billion for the same period last year, recurring loss of ¥27.0 billion, compared with recurring profit of ¥65.1 billion for the same period last year, and quarterly net loss of ¥18.9 billion, compared with net income of ¥44.3 billion for the same period last year.

Overview

In the fiscal first quarter (April 1, 2009 – June 30, 2009), shipping operators faced a marked deterioration in the business environment in the wake of the global economic downturn. NYK Line consequently suffered unprecedentedly poor consolidated operating results. Overall consolidated revenues were ¥299.5 billion, or 44.1%, lower compared with the same period last year. This decrease reflects a substantial revenue decline in the shipping segment (composed of liner trade and bulk shipping) due mainly to a further fall in container freight rates and a weakening of container transport volumes as well as a decline in freight rates due to the dry bulk market's slump. Consolidated revenue's decline was also partly due to a decrease in handling volumes in non-shipping segments such as logistics, terminal and harbor transport, and air cargo transportation. On the other hand, costs and expenses were down ¥201.6 billion, compared with the same period last year, and we also worked to reduce selling, general and administrative expenses. However, because of the substantial decline in overall revenues, operating income decreased by ¥83.6 billion compared with the same period last year, and the ratio of operating income to revenues decreased from 8.6% to -6.7%, a decline of 15.3 percentage points. As a result, recurring profit decreased by ¥92.1 billion and net income decreased by ¥63.2 billion compared with the same period last year, both significant declines.

The impact of fluctuations in foreign exchange rates and bunker oil prices on recurring profit for the three-month period under review is summarized in the following table:

	Three months ended June 30, 2009	Three months ended June 30, 2008	Change	Impact
Average exchange rate	¥97.50/US$	¥103.36/US$	Yen up ¥5.86	- ¥1.9 billion
Average bunker oil price	US$288.72/MT	US$533.18/MT	Price down US$244.46	¥12.2 billion

Notes:

1. A ¥1 change in the exchange rate against the dollar has an annualized impact of around ¥1.3 billion on recurring profit.
2. A US$1 change per metric ton in the price of bunker oil results in a change in annual recurring profit of approximately ¥200 million.

Note: Exchange rates and bunker oil prices are our corporate values.

Segment Information

Liner Trade

The decline in freight rates, ongoing since the fiscal second half of last year, showed signs of ceasing on some routes, including European and Oceanian routes. However, average freight rates fell on all routes compared with the same period last year, and as did cargo volumes, resulting in a substantial decline in revenues. As the economic environment worsened, we worked to variously cut costs, including by downsizing our fleet and streamlining service operations, but the effects were insufficient to compensate for the decline in freight revenues. Consequently, the liner trade segment overall underperformed significantly compared with the same period last year.

Bulk Shipping

Car Carrier Division

The car carrier division added one newly built vessel to its fleet. Continuing from the previous fiscal year, it also scrapped one vessel, and laid up seven, in an effort to cut ship expenses by reducing shipping capacity in operation. Due to the drop in transport volumes, however, transport volumes were more than halved compared with the same period last year.

Dry Bulk Carrier Division

In the dry bulk carrier division, while makers of steel, automobiles, paper, and other products in developed countries continued to cut production, China's imports of iron ore and coal picked up due to steel demand spurred by monetary relaxation and economic stimulus packages. The dry bulk market, which plummeted last fall, is thus on the track to recovery as transport volumes increase, most notably for China. However, consolidated fiscal first quarter profit was significantly lower compared with the same period last year due to the completion of voyages by vessels contracted under last fiscal year's weak market conditions and other factors.

Tanker Division

In the tanker division, markets fell as shipping-capacity supply increased due to several factors. Demand for crude oil slumped, stocks of crude oil and petroleum products increased, transport volumes declined in the wake of coordinated output cuts by OPEC, and a large number of newbuildings were completed. Although NYK's crude oil carriers and LNG carriers produced stable profits on long-term contracts, the petroleum product carrier market's slump put pressure on profit, and as a result, the tanker division overall saw profits decrease compared with the same period last year.

Period: January 2005–June 2009

Tanker Freight Rates (Maximum)
for VLCCs from Middle East to Japan

Period: January 2005–June 2009

Logistics

Although NYK Logistics worked to cut costs across the board and further streamline its operations, handling volumes declined in the wake of the global economic downturn. Yusen Air & Sea Service Co., Ltd. also suffered a continued decline in demand for air cargo transport. As a result, the logistics segment as a whole recorded lower revenues and profits compared with the same period last year.

Terminal and Harbor Transport

Handling volumes at container terminals in Japan and overseas decreased significantly due to the global slump in container transport volumes, and as a result, the terminal and harbor transport segment underperformed compared with the same period last year.

Cruise

The Japanese market saw the Asuka II outperform compared with the same period last year, helped by the drop in bunker oil prices and other factors, although the seat-load factor fell. In the U.S. market, on the other hand, the Crystal Cruises failed to grow sales due to the weakening economy. As a result, the cruise segment as a whole recorded lower revenues and profits compared with the same period last year.

Air Cargo Transportation

Nippon Cargo Airlines Co., Ltd. endeavored to cut costs and enhance customer service by maintaining and improving on-time departure rates amid the difficulties posed by the unprecedented market downturn. However, it was unable to fully absorb the impact of transport volumes' decline, resulting in significantly lower revenue and a wider loss compared with the same period last year.

Real Estate and Other Business Services

The real estate business was strong as occupancy rates of major office buildings remained relatively high. Profit was up compared with the same period last year. In other services, results underperformed the same period last year as the trading business's revenue declined significantly due to the drop in bunker oil prices, and the manufacturing and processing business was impacted by the market downturn.

2. Review of Change in Financial Position

Assets, Liabilities, and Net Assets

Total assets at the end of the fiscal first quarter amounted to ¥2,119.7 billion, an increase of ¥48.4 billion from the end of the previous fiscal year. This mainly reflects an increase in current assets of ¥10.8 billion resulting from an increase in inventories, due to higher bunker oil prices versus the previous fiscal year, and other factors, along with an increase in noncurrent assets of ¥37.5 billion due to an increase in investment securities of ¥35.2 billion resulting from higher share prices, while notes and operating accounts receivable-trade decreased. Total liabilities grew ¥30.6 billion from the end of the previous fiscal year to ¥1,520.6 billion. This mainly reflects an increase in interest-bearing debt of ¥33.0 billion resulting mainly from an increase in commercial paper. Shareholders' equity—the aggregate of shareholders' capital of ¥593.2 billion and valuation and translation adjustments—totaled ¥557.6 billion, and adding minority interests of ¥41.3 billion to this resulted in total net assets of ¥599.0 billion. As a result, the debt-equity ratio finished at 1.99.

Cash Flows

Net cash used in operating activities in the first quarter was ¥-19.5 billion, reflecting quarterly loss before income taxes and minority interests of ¥-20.7 billion, an increase in inventories of ¥-7.0 billion, a decrease in notes and accounts payable-trade of ¥-7.6 billion, and ¥-13.1 billion in income taxes paid, which offset depreciation and amortization of ¥23.8 billion and a decrease in notes and accounts receivable-trade of ¥17.5 billion. Net cash provided by investing activities was ¥8.8 billion, primarily reflecting sales of investment securities. Net cash provided by financing activities was ¥13.7 billion, primarily reflecting an increase in commercial paper. As a result, the balance of cash and cash equivalents stood at ¥133.7 billion at the end of the fiscal first quarter, an increase of ¥7.0 billion compared with the beginning of the quarter, after taking into account the effect of exchange rate change on cash and cash equivalents.

Trends in cash flows over time are illustrated in the following table:

	March 31, 2007	March 31, 2008	March 31, 2009	June 30, 2008	June 30, 2009
1 Shareholders' equity ratio (%)	30.8	27.9	26.3	29.2	26.3
2 Shareholders' equity ratio at market price (%)	54.4	50.3	22.3	51.2	24.2
3 Cash flows vs ratio of interest-bearing debt (years)	10.3	5.1	7.2	-	-
4 Interest coverage ratio	5.0	8.8	6.6	3.3	-

1. Shareholders' equity ratio: shareholders' equity/total assets

2. Shareholders' equity ratio at market price: total market capitalization/total assets

3. Cash flows vs ratio of interest-bearing debt (years): interest-bearing debt/cash flow from operating activities

4. Interest coverage ratio: cash flow from operating activities/interest payments

Notes:

1. All indices are calculated using consolidated figures.

2. Cash flow indices are computed by using cash flows from operating activities as reported in the consolidated cash flow statements. Interest-bearing debt consists of all interest-bearing liabilities included in liabilities on the balance sheet. Interest payments are based on the interest expenses paid in the consolidated statements of cash flows.

3. Interest coverage ratio for the first quarter ended June 30, 2009 is not indicated because cash flow from operating activities was negative.

3. Forecast of Consolidated Financial Results

Revision of Earnings Forecasts

We have revised down our performance forecast for the fiscal year ending March 31, 2010, to revenues of ¥1,710.0 billion, operating income of ¥20.0 billion, recurring profit of ¥4.0 billion, and net loss of ¥5.0 billion.

(Billions of yen)

Outlook for the fiscal year ending March 2010		Revenues	Operating income	Recurring profit	Net income
Cumulative second quarter ending September 30, 2009	Initial forecast	890.0	(18.0)	(23.0)	(22.0)
	Revisions	784.0	(37.0)	(44.0)	(32.0)
	Change	-106.0	-19.0	-21.0	-10.0
	Percentage change	-11.9%	-	-	-
Year ending March 31, 2010	Initial forecast	1,880.0	53.0	40.0	18.0
	Revisions	1,710.0	20.0	4.0	(5.0)
	Change	-170.0	-33.0	-36.0	-23.0
	Percentage change	-9.0%	-62.3%	-90.0%	-

Assumptions for above forecasts:

Foreign exchange rate (for the second, third and fourth quarter): ¥95/US$

Bunker oil price (for the second, third and fourth quarter): US$380/MT

In the liner trade segment, we will strive to restore freight rate levels while endeavoring to further downsize our fleet and streamline service operations. However, we expect it to take some time for transport volumes to recover. In the bulk shipping segment, although the dry bulk market is on the rise as China's imports of iron ore increase, the petroleum product carrier market remains subdued, and car transport volumes are expected to significantly underperform the previous fiscal year. In non-shipping segments such as logistics, terminal and harbor transport, and air cargo transportation, handling volumes' slump is expected to put pressure on profit. We are working to cut costs across the board and streamline our operations in all business segments, but we expect the environment to remain challenging. Given these factors, consolidated performance forecasts for the cumulative second quarter and the full year have been revised as detailed above.

4. Others

(1) Changes in important subsidiaries during the period (changes in specific subsidiaries due to changes in the scope of consolidation): None

(2) Use of simplified accounting methods and accounting methods particular to preparation of the quarterly consolidated financial statements

1. Calculation of doubtful accounts of ordinary credits

As there is not recognized any significant difference between the actual default-experience rate calculated as at the end of the first quarter of fiscal 2009 and that calculated as at the end of the previous fiscal year, an uncollectible amount continues to be estimated based on the same default-experience rate as applied for the previous fiscal year.

2. Calculation of taxes, deferred tax assets, and deferred tax liabilities

The Company and some of its subsidiaries have adopted an accounting method that limits deductible and taxable items and tax credit items used in the calculation of the amounts of income and other taxes paid to those that are material.

Because there have been no substantial changes in the business environment and no temporary valuation differences to affect the judgment of determining the possibility of deferred tax assets being utilized since the end of last fiscal year, the Company is using the earnings forecasts and tax planning from last fiscal year.

(3) Changes in accounting principles, procedures and presentation methods for quarterly financial statements

1. Accounting standard for construction contracts

The Company used to apply the completed-contract method for recognizing revenues and costs of long-term construction contract, however, effective from the first quarter of this fiscal year, "Accounting Standard for Construction Contracts" (ASBJ Statement No.15, December 27, 2007) and "Guidance on Accounting Standard for Construction Contracts" (ASBJ Guidance No.18, December 27, 2007) have been adopted. From the construction contract that commenced during the first quarter of this fiscal year, the percentage-of-completion method (the percentage of completion of construction activity is estimated by the incurred cost) is applied for the construction which the outcome of the construction activity is deemed certain during the course of the activity, otherwise the completed-contract method is applied. The effect of this change is minimal.
