The Seoul High Court's Judgment on Airfreight Charges

In November 2010, the Korea Fair Trade Commission informed Nippon Cargo Airlines Co., Ltd. (NCA), one of our subsidiaries, of its decision to impose a fine against NCA's breach of the Korea's Monopoly Regulation and Fair Trade Law. After careful review of the decision of the Korea Fair Trade Commission, we found some contents that were not acceptable to us and thus decided to take action against the Korea Fair Trade Commission by filing a petition of appeal to vacate the decision with The Seoul High Court in Korea on December 28, 2010. The Seoul High Court affirmed the decision of the Korea Fair Trade Commission and ruled against NCA for the case related to "airfreight charges on ex-Japan Korea bound routes". Nippon Yusen Kabushiki Kaisha has disclosed the fact on May 16, 2012.

NCA carefully examined the decision of the Seoul High Court. As a result, we appealed to Supreme Court on the evening of June 1, 2012.

The case related to airfreight charges on all ex- Korea routes is still pending before the Seoul High Court in Korea.
